Remote Work

Employees may request remote work through their manager. Team members should keep their calendars updated and protect confidential company information when working outside the office.

Leave Requests

Planned leave should be submitted through the internal leave portal at least five working days in advance when practical. Urgent or sick leave should be reported to the manager as soon as possible.

Equipment

Company laptops should use approved security updates and screen locks. Lost devices must be reported to the IT help desk promptly.

Document Retention

Project records should be stored in the approved company workspace. Personal copies of confidential files should not be kept after the business need ends.

Test Questions

- How far in advance should planned leave usually be submitted?
- What should an employee do if a company laptop is lost?
- Where should project records be stored?
